EVOLUTION AND ITS RELATION TO RELIGIOUS THOUGHT. By

JOSEPH LE CONTE, Professor of Geology and Natural History in the University of California, author of "Elements of Geology," "Religion and Science," etc. With numerous illustrations. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

"Much, very much has been written, especially on the nature and the evidences of evolution, but the literature is so voluminous, much of it so fragmentary, and most of it so technical, that even very intelligent persons have still very vague ideas on the subject. I have attempted to give (1) a very concise account of what we mean by evolution, (2) an outline of the evidences of its truth drawn from many different sources, and (3) its relation to fundamental religious beliefs."—Extract from Preface.

"GOOD FORM" IN ENGLAND. By an American, resident in the United Kingdom.

12mo, cloth, $1.50.

"The raison d'être of this book is to provide Americans—especially those visiting England—with a concise, comprehensive, and comprehensible handbook, which will give them all necessary information respecting 'how things are' in England. While it deals with subjects connected with all ranks and classes, it is particularly intended to be an exhibit and explanation of the ways, habits, customs, and usages of what is known in England as 'high life.' Such being the society to which American ladies and gentlemen have the entrée, it is hoped that the book will be useful to them."—From the Preface.

BALLADES AND RONDEAUS, CHANTS ROYAL, SESTINAS, VILLANELLES, ETC. Selected, with Chapter on the Various Forms, by GLEESON WHITE. 18mo, cloth, extra gilt, $1.00.

"Mr. Gleeson White's collection of specimens of English verse in certain foreign metrical forms that are conveniently styled French, is curious and instructive, as well as thoroughly representative. . . . We must commend the historical section of Mr. White's introduction and his careful analytical observations on the various metres. As the collection itself is derived from every available source, from English and American writers, from dead periodicals and living, books read and books neglected, so also is the editor's industry of the most thorough and searching kind."—Saturday Review.

NEW VOLUME OF ROSCOE AND SCHORLEMMER'S CHEMISTRY.

TREATISE ON CHEMISTRY—Part IV. of Volume III. By H. E. ROSCOE, F.R.S., and C. SCHORLEMMER, F.R.S., Professors of Chemistry in the Victoria University, Owens College, Manchester. Part IV., Volume III. 8vo, cloth, xi-566 pages, $3.00.

This part includes a description of the Aromatic Compounds containing seven atoms of Carbon. The first portion is concerned with the Toluene Group, then come the Benzyl, Benzoyl, and Hydrobenzyl Groups, and lastly the Xylene Group of eight Carbon Compounds.

A FALSE START. A NOVEL. By HAWLEY SMART. 12mo, paper cover, 50 cents.

Mr. Smart's novels are always vivid in description and stirring in incident, and "A False Start" does not lack in these characteristics.

For sale by all booksellers; or any work sent by the publishers by mail, postpaid, on receipt of the price.

1, 3, and 5 Bond Street, New York.

BOOKS FOR ALL READERS,

PUBLISHED BY

THE DOCTOR OF DEANE. By MARY T. PALMER. 12mo, $1.25.

The Nation says: "Within its modest limits this bright and well-written little book holds an uncommonly distinct and agreeable group of portraits. Uncommon, too, is the perceptive quality which has taken note of innumerable subtleties of thought and feeling under the conditions of daily life, and set them down with a faithfulness that is in touch with nature, yet that never becomes odious by over-analyzing."

VOLCANOES AND EARTHQUAKES. By SAMUEL KNEELAND, LL.D. Illustrated. 8vo, $2.50.

These wonderful phenomena in their marvel and mystery have a fascination alike for the student and the general reader, and Dr. Kneeland has happily hit upon a style which will attract both classes. His visits for the last fifteen years to volcanic countries, in almost every part of the world, have given him the advantage of personal observation and research, and his descriptions have a peculiar vividness and force.

THE DEATHLESS BOOK. By Rev. D. O. MEARS, D.D. 12mo, $1.50.

Rev. Joseph Cook says of this book: "It is eloquent and suggestive, as timely as it is convincing."

President J. H. Seelye, of Amherst College, writes: "Book whose title is a ray of genius, and whose pages I find glowing with affluent thought."

And Dr. A. P. Peabody, of Harvard College, writes: "It is admirable—original, so far as I know, in its plan, rich in its materials, clear and irrefutably strong in its reasoning."

MARGARET REGIS AND SOME OTHER GIRLS. By ANNA H. RYDER. 12mo, $1.25.

Miss Ryder is well known as a popular writer for girls, and her previous books, "Hold up Your Heads, Girls!" and "New Every Morning: A Year Book for Girls," have shown how well she understands her audience. This, her first long story, will be eagerly read. It shows girls as they are, not always at their best, nonsensical often, full of jollity and spirit, but capable of earnest moods and reachings out after the more serious import of life.

HOW TOM AND DOROTHY MADE AND KEPT A CHRISTIAN HOME. By MARGARET SIDNEY. 12mo, 75 cents.

The young couple who begin their modest housekeeping under difficulties have the true courage and resolution that come from an assured trust in a wisely guiding power that is interested in their little struggles, failures, and successes. The simple record of their daily life will hearten others who are striving to act up to their best insight.

HERBERT GARDENELL'S CHILDREN. By Mrs. S. R. GRAHAM CLARK, author of the "Yensie Walton Books." 12mo, $1.50.

Ministers' children are proverbially mischievous; and these, though they call sweet Yensie Walton mother, are no exception. Yet a beautiful household it is, where young people, loving to obey, lead merry, happy lives.

MONTEAGLE. By "PANSY" (Mrs. G. R. Alden). 12mo, 75 cents.

"A delicate girl finds strength and health in the pure mountain air, and learns more of life through the enlarging influences of a Chautauqua assembly. She in her turn exerts a beneficent influence on a kind-hearted, but wayward young man whose reckless conduct is bringing anxiety to a beautiful home in which the young girl fills an humble position. Like all of Pansy's stories, it is told with a charm that impresses and holds the reader."

A DOZEN OF THEM. By "PANSY" (Mrs. G. R. Alden). 12mo, 60 cents.

A Sunday-school story having for its hero a twelve-year old boy, who is thrown upon his own resources. His only relative, a sister but little older than himself, induces him to promise to learn by heart a verse of Scripture every month. The story tells the results.

AT HOME AND ABROAD. From The Pansy. 12mo, $1.00.

Short stories of life, in this and other countries, very fully illustrated. Just the book for spare minutes, when there is not time for a long story. The dainty cover with its purple pansies and golden ferns is a delight in itself.

BOBBY'S WOLF, AND OTHER STORIES. From The Pansy. 12mo, $1.00.

Bright stories such as boys and girls enjoy, and find not one whit less entertaining from the earnest thought that runs through them all.

For sale at the book-stores, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price.

NOTES IN SEASON.

LITTLE, BROWN & Co. have just issued "A Century of Town Life: a history of Charles-town, Mass., 1775-1887," with surveys, records, and 28 pages of plans and reviews, by James F. Hunnewell.

T. Y. CROWELL & Co. announce for immediate publication an authorized translation of Count Tolstoy's latest work, his "Life," which has been suppressed in Russia, pending an investigation by the Censor of its religious doctrines.

HARPER & BROS. have just issued the third and concluding volume of Lea's "History of the Inquisition of the Middle Ages," a work on which the house must take pride in setting its imprint; a collection of stories by Amélie Rives, taking its title from her strong story, "A Brother to Dragons;" and "Joyce," by Mrs. Oliphant, which appears in the Franklin Square Library.

ROBERTS BROS. will publish, April 12, "Modeste Mignon," by Katherine Prescott Wormeley; "The Ordeal of Richard Feverel," the initial volume in the new Library edition of George Meredith's works; "The Study of Politics," by Prof. W. P. Atkinson; "Martin Luther, and other essays," by Frederic Henry Hedge; and the edition for 1888 of Charles E. Pascoe's "London of To-Day."

CUPPLES & HURD will publish immediately two books of unusual interest. The first, "Stray Leaves from Newport," by Mrs. Wm. Lamont Wheeler, which is not unlikely to create considerable stir on account of the author's position in one of the most exclusive circles of American society; the other, "Social Life and Literature Fifty Years Ago," by a well-known Salem litterateur, whose name is withheld.

D. APPLETON & Co. publish next week "Evolution and Its Relation to Religious Thought," by Joseph Le Conte; a collection of specimens of English verse, compiled by Gleeson White, entitled "Ballades and Rondeaux," giving chapters on the various forms; "Good Form in England," giving special directions for Americans on social usages; and part IV. of volume III. of Roscoe and Schorlemmer's "Treatise on Chemistry," which includes a description of the aromatic compounds containing seven atoms of carbon.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. will publish next week a beautiful little volume entitled "Before the Curfew and Other Poems, Chiefly Occasional," by Dr. Holmes, containing the poems he has written during the last eight years since the publication of the "Iron Gate;" a little book of "Metrical Translations and Poems," by Rev. Dr. F. H. Hedge and Mrs. A. L. Wister, both widely known as admirable German scholars and translators; an octavo volume entitled "The Puritan Age and Rule in the Colony of the Massachusetts Bay, 1629-1685," by Dr. Geo. E. Ellis, President of the Massachusetts Historical Society, and one of the most careful and thorough of American students and writers of history; and "The Discovery of America by the Northmen," an address delivered by Prof. E. N. Horsford at the unveiling of the statue of Leif Eriksen, last October, and rendered very interesting and valuable by fac-similes of rare and curious maps and charts.

PERSONAL NOTES.

IN reference to the personnel of the three new partners of the firm of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., the Boston Transcript says: "Mr. Barnes has been in the office of the firm for a few months, in order to become familiar with the business. He is a graduate of Harvard. After leaving college he made a tour of the world, and then returned to his former home at Albany, N. Y., where he has since occupied a position on the Albany Journal. Mr. Kay has not been connected with the publishing firm, although much interested in literary matters. He is well known as a successful operator in several extensive financial enterprises, and especially with the completion of railroad connection between St. John, N. B., and Boston. Mr. Kay is a native of Edinburgh, and has lately erected a fine mansion on Aspinwall Hill, Brookline. Mr. H. O. Houghton, Jr., is a graduate of Harvard, class of '77, and for the last ten years has been actively engaged in the manufacturing department of the business."

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); O. 4to: under 30 cm.; O. 8vo: 25 cm.; D. (12mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tl. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

The other stories are Crowther and Thirsh; The Master of Rushen; Rex Macarthy; Jonathan Yeadon's justification; Seed by the wayside; The heart of Sam Naylor, and "Our Joe," which little gem Mrs. Barr has just elaborated into "Master of his fate."

Barr, Mrs. Amelia E. Master of his fate. N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., [1888.] c. 3+293 p. S. cl., $1.

Manchester and the West Riding country, a woollen-mill, a cotton-mill, a landed lady proprietor, her husband who becomes "master of his fate," his stern Church of England father, his devoted Methodist aunt, the country gentry, and the mill-owners furnish the materials from which the author has constructed a story which, as usual, has a good moral, beautiful scenery, and well-drawn characters. The key-note is that work is a cure for all evil.

The chief weakness of all short-hand systems heretofore has been that as to vowel signs and representation, especially when such representation has been by "position," on which that representation has mainly depended—there has been no definiteness or certainty about it. The author's aim has been, and he has devoted a good deal of study to the solution of the problem, to secure the exactness that has been lacking (though much desired) without sacrifice of brevity. That he has accomplished this he believes from his experience in his own work and from the numerous endorsements he has received in letters from expert short-hand writers throughout the country.

Bliss, S. Analysis of sacred chronology, with the elements of chronology; and the numbers of the Hebrew text vindicated; rev., with notes; [also] The peopling of the earth; or, historical notes on the 10th chapter of Genesis, by Alonzo T. Jones. Oakland, Cal., Pacific Press Pub. House, 1887. 4-298 p. D. cl., $1; lib. style, $1.50; mor., $1.75.

"Sacred chronology" is a new and revised edition of a little work published about forty years ago, giving the chronology from creation till the death of the Apostle John. It has always been found very useful in Sunday-schools. "The peopling of the earth," now added to it, is quite new. It gives an outline of the origin and descent of all the principal nations of the earth. As now offered the work will be found an excellent one for reference for Bible students.

In commemoration of the beginning of the second hundredth thousand of this useful and popular little manual, the publishers have issued it in a new attractive style, carefully revised, and with a new chapter designed for young people.

Case (The) of Mohammed Benani: a story of today. N. Y., Appleton, 1888. c. 7+324 p. D. hf. cl., 75 c.; pap., 50 c.

Twenty-four important characters, a scene which shifts from Africa to Russia, minute details of political intrigue, mesmerism and second-sight in theory and practice, a duel, a boar-hunt, a race, a mysterious disappearance are but a part of the material for a plot of which the intricacies cannot be made clear briefly. Mohammed Benani is a sultan's envoy to a North African court, who is plotted against, imprisoned, and ill-treated. Jewish and Moorish oppression and the neglected duties of European consulates compose the author's theme. He shows close study of the work of Balzac, Tolstoi, Howells, and James, and makes frequent references to them. The romance is of subordinate interest.

The Baldwin lectureship of Michigan is a similar endowment to the Bampton lectureship in England—being for the establishment and defence of Christian truth. The lecturer is nominated by the Bishop of Michigan and must be a member of the Episcopal Church. The first course of lectures was delivered in 1886 by Arthur Cleveland Coxe, Bishop of Western New York. The lectures of the course of 1887 discuss Phases and failures of Clayden, P. W. The early life of Samuel Rogers. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1888. 7+405 p. D. cl., $1.75.

The author of "The pleasures of memory" and other poems, and the friend of Byron, Scott, Moore, and Wordsworth, is the subject of a biographical volume from a clever English writer. It only covers a period of forty years, and ends with his settlement in the celebrated house in St. James' Place, London, where he afterwards gathered around him the wits and prominent literary men of his day. Another period of fifty years will be the subject of a second volume, sketching him and his surroundings when he was one of the chief figures in English society. Mr. Clayden received the material for Rogers' life from the representatives of Mr. Rogers' nephews and executors.

Dall, Mrs. Caroline Healey. The life of Dr. Anandabai Joshee: a kinswoman of the Pundit Ramabai. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1888. c. 187 p. por., D. cl., $1.

As the first unconverted high-caste Hindu woman to leave her own country and to receive the degree of medicine in any country, the subject of this memoir is invested with an unusual interest. Dr. Joshee's aim in studying medicine was to help the women of India. Her desire becoming known to the English residents of Calcutta a fund was raised to send her to the United States. She landed in New York in June of 1883, going almost directly to Phila., where she entered the Woman's Medical College of Penn., and afterwards graduated on the 11th of March, 1886. She was then appointed to the post of Physician-in-charge of the female wards of the Albert Edward Hospital, Kolhapen, India. She returned to India to enter upon her duties, but died of consumption in Feb. of 1887, at the age of twenty-one years and a few months.

Dreyspring, Adolphe. First German reader on the cumulative method. N. Y., Appleton, 1888. c. 112 p. il. O. cl., 70 c.

A narrative in which the varied activities of childhood are presented in the plainest, simplest, and most facile language. One of the designs of the story is the bringing out of prominent grammatical features, such as different classes of verbs, force and value of prepositions, use of adjectives, etc., and enough of idiomatic expressions to pave the way into a more natural flow of the language.

Fenn, G. Manville. One maid's mischief: a novel. N. Y., Appleton, 1888. 1+364 p. S. pap., 30 c.

The punishment for coquetry as depicted here is indeed a severe one. Helen Perowne even as a school-girl in England got into trouble through her love of flirting and admiration. After her school-days, when she returns again to her father in India, she is the undisputed belle of the station. She slays her admirers by the dozens, without a pang of remorse, but finds her match at last in the Sultan Murad, a Malayan rajah, who has had an English education, but has not given up his religion or the Oriental custom of a harem. Driven to desperation he steals Helen and imprisons her in his harem. Her experiences here fill many chapters and are of the most thrilling description. There are many side narratives and characters—the Rev. Arthur Rosebury and his sister and Dr. Bolton being extremely interesting and having a delightful history.

The features of this annual comprise an exhaustive chronological history of all dramatic and musical productions and other events during the year 1887, with the casts and plots of all new works brought out in this country, England, France, and Germany; a necrology embracing biographical sketches of all professionals that died in the countries named; and the dramatic bibliography of the year. The book contains also an authentic directory of the American dramatic profession, giving not only the names and permanent addresses of over 5000 actors, actresses, managers, etc., but also a thorough classification of their diversified lines of business; the text of the Inter-state Commerce Law; and a list of stars, combinations, and stock companies of the season of 1887-88. copious analytical index makes the volume easy of reference.

Twelve years have passed since the first edition of "Gardening for pleasure" was published. In that time vast studies and changes have been made in all departments of horticulture, so that it has been found necessary not only to greatly enlarge the scope of this work, but also to make many changes. The newest and best methods of culture have been substituted for such as a farther experience has shown to have been faulty, so that it is believed that in all matters pertaining to amateur gardening the ground is thoroughly covered.

Jessie, by the author of "Addie's husband." N. Y., Norman L. Munro, [1888.] 168 p. D. (Munro's lib., no. 819.) pap., 20 c.

Jones, H. ["Cavendish," pseud.] The laws and principles of whist stated and explained, and its practice illustrated on an original system by means of hands played completely through. [New issue from 16th Eng. ed.] N. Y., F. A. Stokes & Bro., 1888. c. 263 p. S. bds., 75 c.

Jones, Sarah J. Rest or unrest: a story of the Parisian Sabbath in America. N. Y., Phillips & Hunt, 1888. c. 260 p. D. cl., 90 c.

A story showing the duty of "remembering the Sabbath day to keep it holy," both as obeying a law of God and as a rule of decided business advantage.

Keyes, E. L., M.D. A practical treatise on genito-urinary diseases, including syphilis; being a new ed. of a work with the same title, by Van Buren and Keyes, almost entirely rewritten. N. Y., Appleton, 1888. il. O. cl., $5; shp., $6.

King, W: Francis H: Classical and foreign quotations, law terms and maxims, proverbs, mottoes, phrases and expressions in French, German, Greek, Italian, Latin, Spanish, and Portuguese; with translations, references, explanatory notes and indexes. N. Y., T: Whittaker, 1888. 6+608 p. D. hf. mor., $1.75.

Contains nearly 6000 quotations in alphabetical order, with an "Index of quotations not occurring in their alphabetical order," an "English subject index," and a catalogue of authors and works quoted. Two special features of the book may be mentioned. The first is that, in order to secure strictly verbal accuracy, each quotation has been carefully verified by reference to the best available edition of the author's work whence it is taken. The second is that to every quotation is appended a reference to the author, work, and place of the passage cited.

Knapp, Clark D. A treatise on the law of partition of real and personal property. N. Y., S. S. Peloubet, 1887. c. 57+631 p. O. shp., $6.

Kneeland, S:, M.D. Volcanoes and earthquakes: a popular account of their nature, causes, effects, and geographical distribution, from personal observation in the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands, Japan, Iceland, the Mediterranean Basin, Spain, and the United States. Bost., D. Lothrop Co., [1888.] c. 220 p. il. O. cl., $2.50.

Not intended as a scientific text-book. Prepared for popular reading and seeks to give such information on the subject of volcanoes and earthquakes, now of universal interest, as every liberally educated person may desire to possess. Much of the material used is the result of the author's own observation in the countries described, and partakes largely of personal adventure; the remainder is condensed and simplified from special books and journals in many languages.

Lamb, C: The letters of Charles Lamb, newly arranged, with additions; ed., with introduction and notes, by Alfred Ainger. N. Y., A. C. Armstrong & Son, 1888. 2 v. 25+343; 13+377 p. por. D. cl., $3; hf. cf., $6.

These letters to Coleridge, Wordsworth, Southey, Manning, Godwin, and others form a complete biography of Lamb—at least from the time when he came of age and began the battle of his sad and lonely life. They go down to a date preceding his death by a few days. Read consecutively as now given, with many omissions supplied and with the aid of the supplementary information provided by Mr. Ainger's notes, we get all the details of the tragical events which not only colored but shaped his career. Lamb's broad sympathy and versatile taste are illustrated through the many criticisms, embodied in his letters, of the literary work of his contemporaries. The work is one of the most important literary events of the year. The notes are very full. A good index.

Lawrence, W: Life of Amos A. Lawrence; with extracts from his diary and correspondence; by his son. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1888. c. 9+289 p. por. D. cl., $1.50.

A typical American business man is eulogized in this biography. Mr. Lawrence was born in Boston in 1814; as a boy he was thoughtful, high-minded, and honorable, with a decidedly religious nature. After his college life at Harvard and Andover he entered upon his chosen career of a merchant. Besides bestowing unusual attention upon his business, his energies found many other outlets. He threw his whole heart into the settling of Kansas with New England men, and so making it a free state. His relations with John Brown are full of interest, as is also the part—a most practical one—which he took in the rebellion. His generosity was illustrated by many munificent acts to the educational institutions of Boston. As a whole the book gives a most instructive picture of a busy life, unblemished in any of its relations with its fellow-men.

Levy, Mark. Some thoughts on life's battle. Louisville, Ky., J: P. Morton & Co., 1888. c. 58 p. D. pap., 15 c.

Some thoughts in prose and verse "not published as a literary effort, but in the hope of touching the hearts of Christian people, and thereby awakening them to a sense of their duty to the Jewish race."

Levi, Leone. International law; with materials for a code of international law. N. Y., Appleton, 1888. 9+346 p. D. (International scientific ser., no. 60.) cl., $1.50.

Mr. Leone Levi is professor of commercial law in King's College, London. While accepting the principles of codification laid down in the elaborate treatises of David Dudley Field and Bluntschli, he aims to cover a part of the subject not included in their works—"the positive portion of the law, that resulting from treaties and conventions." Preceding the "materials for a code of international law" is an historical and statistical introduction, giving an account of the progress of international relations from ancient times to our own day. Supplemented with a conspectus of the actual area and population and treaty relations of all those countries which recognize international obligations.

Locke, D: R., ["Petroleum V. Nasby," pseud.] Ekkoes from Kentucky; il. by T: Nast. [New ed.] Bost., Lee & Shepard, 1888. c. '67. 324 p. D. cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

Locke, D: R., ["Petroleum V. Nasby," pseud.] The morals of Abou Ben Adhem. [New ed.] Bost., Lee & Shepard, 1888. c. '75. 3-231 p. D. cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

Locke, D: R., ["Petroleum V. Nasby," pseud.] A paper city. [New ed.] Bost., Lee & Shepard, 1888. c. '78. 431 p. D. cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

Locke, D: R., ["Petroleum V. Nasby," pseud.] Swingin round the cirkle; il. by T: Nast. [New ed.] Bost., Lee & Shepard, [1888.] c' 66. 299 p. D. cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

Lyons, J. A. American elocutionist and dramatic reader: to be used as a drill-book in colleges and schools. N. Y., Catholic Pub. Soc. Co., 1888. D. cl., $1.50.

McAnally, D. R., jr. Irish wonders: the ghosts, giants, pookas, demons, leprechauns, banshees, fairies, witches, widows, old maids, and other marvels of the Emerald Isle: popular tales as told by the people; il. by H. R. Heaton. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1888. c. 8+218 p. sq. O. cl., $2.

The wonderful imaginative power of the Celtic mind is strikingly displayed in this unique collection of legends and fanciful tales. The material was collected by the compiler during a recent lengthy visit to Ireland, in the course of which he traversed every county in the island from end to end, and was in constant association with the peasant tenantry. They are told just as they were told to him without the slightest embellishment, and in the broadest brogue. Nothing so funny as several of the sketches has before been published. We specially refer to "The seven kings of Athenry" and "The defeat of the widows" and "The taming of the Pooka." All are quaint and witty, dealing with old superstitions which still exist, or bits of legendary history that have never before been printed. The illustrations are numerous and characteristic.

Merrill, J: Houston. The American and English encyclopædia of law, v. 3. Northport, L. I., E: Thompson, 1887. c. 7+982 p. O. shp., $6.50.

Murrey, T: J. Luncheon. N. Y., F: A. Stokes & Bro., 1888. c. 3-69 p. S. cl., 75 c.; bds., 50 c.

In a pretty lithographed cover uniform with the other volumes, "Fifty soups," "Fifty salads," etc., which preceded it. Contains directions for a number of appetizing dishes suitable for luncheon, ushered in by some "remarks on luncheon." The recipes are grouped as: Relishes for luncheon; Fish and shell-fish; Hash—a kind word for it; Macaroni; Luncheon curries; Eggs and omelets; Patties; Vegetables; Sweetbreads; Miscellaneous.

*New England legends and folk-lore in prose and poetry. New cheaper ed. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1888. D. cl., $2.

Ogilvie's popular reading, no. 41. N. Y., J. S. Ogilvie & Co., [1888.] c. '83. 154 p. Q. pap., 30 c.

Contains "The Rugg documents," giving the experiences of Aunt Jerusha Rugg, a lone and disconsolate widow, in search of a husband, by Clara Augusta. In five parts.

Parker, Gay. Mr. Perkins of New Jersey; or, the stolen bonds. N. Y., J. S. Ogilvie & Co., 1888. c. 237 p. D. (The red cover ser., no. 18.) pap., 25 c.

Mrs. Marlow is a widow with a large fortune; a false claim is made on her by a pretended friend of her husband for a large sum in United States bonds; one night she finds this man in her room, where he has secured the bonds; not only is her property stolen, but she is abducted, imprisoned in a mad-house, while her son spends many fruitless months searching for her. The burning of the asylum sets her free after many thrilling experiences, and all her wrongs are finally righted.

Ricketts, P. de P., and Russell, S. H. Skeleton notes upon inorganic chemistry. Pt. 1, Non-metallic elements. N. Y., J. Wiley & Sons, 1887. c. no paging, obl. T. cl., $1.50; mor., $2.

Brief notes on the properties of different metals, with a number of blank pages following; the notes are for a framework upon which the pupil is to build and as an aid in following lectures.

Riddell, Mrs. J. H. The nun's curse. N. Y., J. W. Lovell Co., [1888.] 407 p. D. (Lovell's lib., no. 1134.) pap., 20 c.

Riley, Theodore M. Charles George Gordon: a nineteenth century worthy of the English church: a biographical sketch. Milwaukee, The Young Churchman Co., 1888. 3-150 p. por. D. cl., net, 60 c.

This little contribution to General Gordon's memory was not prepared for publication. It met, however, on first reading with so favorable a reception from the clergy of Milwaukee that the author yielded to the urgent request that it be put in book-form. The character of General Gordon, "knightly, heroic, and saintly," is the first thought in the writer's mind. He seeks chiefly to point a lesson, the story of his military and political career being a secondary consideration. Gordon's prayer and his motto, together with some of his maxims and sayings, are given as an appendix.

Rollin, C. The ancient history of the Egyptians, Carthaginians, Assyrians, Babylonians, Medes and Persians, Macedonians and Grecians; tr. from the French. In 8 v. V. 6, 7, 8. N. Y., J. W. Lovell Co., [1888.] 1+383-771; 12-374; 1+375-715 p. S. (Lovell's lib., nos. 1125, 1128, 1131.) pap., ea., 20 c.

Ruben, E. The path to fame. N. Y., O. Lauckner, 175 B'way, 1887. c. 342 p. D. cl., $1.25.

The hero has from his early youth desired to paint pictures and to become a famous artist. Upon the death of his parents he leaves his comfortable country home, comes to New York City, and begins to tread the path which leads him to fame and brings him to a lovely woman who becomes his wife. The story is merely a framework into which the author puts his theories of art, society, culture, morals, etc.

Smart, Hawley. A false start. N. Y., J. W. Lovell Co., [1888.] 294 p. D. (Lovell's lib., no. 1141.) pap., 20 c.

Smith, May Riley. The inn of rest: later poems. N. Y., A. D. F. Randolph & Co., [1888.] c. 35 p. sq. D. bds., $1.

A collection of graceful semi-religious poems: "The inn of rest," "If I could choose," "Linings," "Compensation," "March," "White violets," "The lost Christmas," "We are unfaithful," etc. Bound in white boards with back in white cloth. Gold, silver, and violet are used in the lettering and adornments.

Stapfer, Edmond, D.D. Palestine in the time of Christ; tr. by Annie Harwood Holmden. 3d ed., with map and plans. N. Y., A. C. Armstrong & Son, [1888.] 9+527 p. O. cl., $2.50.

A series of studies on the social and religious life of the Jews in the first century. This edition has been carefully revised. Small inaccuracies have been corrected, and "due weight," the author admits, "has been given to the criticisms of the press." Contains a bibliography (7 pages) of works consulted. The author is professor in the Protestant Theological Faculty of Paris.

Stoddard, W. O. William Henry Harrison, John Tyler, and James Knox Polk. N. Y., F. A. Stokes & Bro., 1888. c. 6+120+64+96 p. il. D. (Lives of the presidents ser.) cl., $1.25.

Tuttle, Herbert. History of Prussia under Frederick the Great, 1740-1756. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1888. c. 2 v, 23+308; 11+334 p. maps, D. cl., $4.50.

The second and third volumes in a series which began some time since with the work entitled "History of Prussia to the ascension of Frederick the Great." By themselves these two volumes also form the first half of what the author hopes will be a complete account, descriptive and historical, of the reign of the third king of Prussia. A fourth volume, to be issued in the near future, will cover the period of the Seven Years' War, including the measures which were taken to heal the wounds left by that bloody struggle. The fifth will bring the story down to the death of Frederick. It is claimed for the work that "it is not a mere restatement of facts included in the works of others, but is based on original researches, and is an independent presentation of the condition and achievements of Prussia under Frederick the Great, and of the methods and singular character of this remarkable sovereign."

Winthrop, Augusta Clinton. Under the cedar and others. Bost., Clarke & Carruth, 1888.

77 p. S. pap., 75 c.

"A little volume of poetry, 'lovingly dedicated to Louise Chandler Moulton and Dr. Holmes,' and abundant in evidences of genuine poetic feeling in the author. The versification is fluent and melodious, the diction is crisp and strong, and the thought is always dignified and well pointed. The poems are, one and all, creditable alike to the taste and skill of the poet, and are of a general excellence that excites a desire to hear more from one who sings so well."—Boston Post.

Wood, Mrs. H: A life's secret. N. Y., Norman L. Munro, [1888.] 237 p. D. (Munro's lib., no. 818.) pap., 20 c.

Yonge, Charlotte M. Hannah More. Bost.,

Roberts Bros., 1888. c. 6-227 p. S. (Famous women ser.) cl., $1.

The name of Hannah More seems to stand for all the womanly virtues. In remembering her excellence and devotion we are apt to forget her versatile talents, which were manifested not only in numerous treatises on education, morals, and religion, but in poems, ballads, plays, stories, etc., etc., all of which had a marked influence upon the social life of her time, though now almost forgotten. Besides being a delightful woman, she was a charming and faithful friend, as her many clever letters testify. Garrick, Horace Walpole, and Johnson were among the greater literary lights she called her friends, while many of lesser note also shared that honor. Miss Yonge has made a most interesting work of the details of her life, describing at length her literary and social successes. Hannah More seems to have belonged entirely to a former century, but she only died in 1833, at the advanced age of 88.

BUSINESS NOTES.

AINSWORTH, NEV.—Mrs. L. J. Lovitt, bookseller and stationer, has sold out.

BELLEVILLE, KAN.—J. S. Sherer has sold his book-store to James S. Auld, his former manager, who will continue the business at the old stand.

BOSTON, MASS.—Mr. James D. Hurd, a partner in the firm of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., having died Dec. 27, 1887, his interest therein terminated April 1, 1888. Messrs. James Murray Kay, Thurlow Weed Barnes, and Henry O. Houghton, Jr., are admitted members of said firm from and after April 1, 1888.

BOSTON, MASS.—C. H. Whiting, bookseller and stationer, has sold out to Greenough, Hopkins & Cushing.

COVINGTON, GA.—Wells Bros. & Woodruff, booksellers, stationers, etc., have dissolved partnership.

DALTON, GA.—S. W. Farnsworth & Co., booksellers, stationers, etc., have been succeeded by Farnsworth & Weatherly.

NEWSPAPERS IN 1888.

FROM the edition of Geo. P. Rowell & Co.'s "American Newspaper Directory," published April 2 (its twentieth year), it appears that the newspapers and periodicals of all kinds issued in the United States and Canada now number 16,310, showing a gain of 890 during the last twelve months, and of 7136 in ten years. The publishers of the "Directory" assert that the impression that when the proprietor of a newspaper undertakes to state what has been his exact circulation, he does not generally tell the truth, is an erroneous one; and they conspicuously offer a reward of $100 for every instance in their book for this year, where it can be shown that the detailed report received from a publisher was untrue.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

APRIL 7, 1888.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE ANNUAL CATALOGUE.

WE have completed the printing of the Annual Catalogue, which will now be ready as soon as the binder can do his part of the work. We remind possible subscribers that the price, now $2.50 in paper and $3 in half morocco, will be raised respectively to $3 and $3.50 on publication.

The advance orders so far received would not in themselves justify the work, but we trust that they are but the advance guard of orders which will bring the volume at least up to the sale of last year. Our friends will oblige us by sending in these orders as speedily as possible.

The Catalogue will be peculiarly interesting, from the printers' and bibliographers' point of view, because of its use of the method of separate electrotypes for each title, the same method advocated by Professor Jewett, of the Smithsonian Institution, a generation ago. After the completion of the work we intend to present in the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY an account of the relative trouble and cost of this method and of the gelatine process as compared with direct type-setting, for the use of future bibliographers, so that judgment may be formed as to the relative availability of different methods. So far the indications are that the electrotypes method does not save so much cost as was supposed. The enterprise this year again has had the advantage of being in the hands of a gentleman, Mr. A. Growoll, who has served his time as a practical printer, besides having the full bibliographical experience of this journal, so that the mechanical and alphabeting work were in the same hands, a combination that cannot usually be made. It was attempted to have the mechanical part of the work, the tacking of the small blocks in their proper order, done by a capable electrotyping hand, but the result was so much inaccuracy in the placing of blocks as to require the doing over of about half of the work. There were also a good many practical difficulties as to spacing, etc., incidental to this method, which cannot easily be avoided as under other process of work.

It is the desire and ambition in this office to make ultimately an Annual Catalogue which shall record, fully and accurately, every book published in the United States during the year, which shall give adequate descriptive notes of all those of importance, which shall include a similarly complete index by author, title, and subject, a full list of publishers issuing during the year, and appendixes covering governmental publications, publications of societies, "library" series, etc. We are a long way off as yet from this ideal, nor does the support of American bibliography promise the return for the labor involved. It is to be hoped, however, that year by year there will be more and more approach to this ideal. Possibly the golden year of 1900 will see the bibliographer of that date in a position to issue a catalogue of which he may be proud without need for apologies. In the meantime we look to our friends of the trade to enable us to do the best that can be done under difficult circumstances.

A DESPATCH from Washington to the Commercial Advertiser, April 4, says as to the copyright bill: "The only danger which confronts the measure now is the possibility of its not being considered, the time of the House from now on being completely at the disposal of the Committee on Rules. There is but little real opposition to the bill in either branch of Congress, its most determined enemy being Gardiner Hubbard, who, as a large stockholder in the Bell Telephone Company, is naturally opposed to monopolies. Ex-Assemblyman Walker Howe, of New York, joined Dr. Edward Eggleston to-day in advocating the measure." Private advices from Washington confirm this despatch, the one fear being the difficulty of getting an hour for consideration. It is hoped to obtain a favorable vote in the Senate within a few days, and with that endorsement to attempt to bring it promptly before the House.

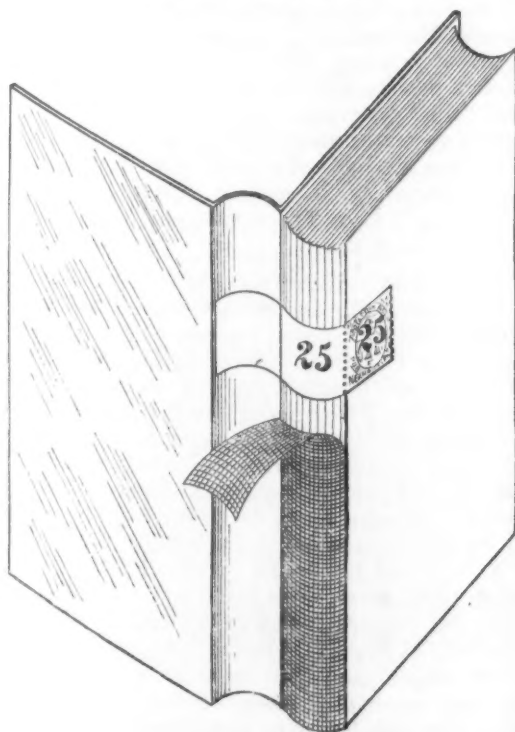

A SHARP practice has lately been developed by so-called family story papers, of appropriating to their own use in illustrating their papers illustrations from some of the best books—fac-similes being made by process—without as much as asking for them. A Boston publisher lately stopped one of this new class of literary thieves, who pleaded ignorance in the matter, and supposed they could use any picture in any book they wished without hindrance. It will be well for publishers to "look sharp" after these parties, or they will find copies of many of their best and most expensive wood-cuts adorning the pages of various cheap periodicals and sometimes in very cheap and low company.

ATTENTION is called to an advertisement under the heading "Books Missing," in our "Books Wanted" department. A prominent New York club lost the books advertised, in a mysterious way, from its library shelves. It takes this method of recovering them and discovering the thief, being willing to make ample compensation to any one who may innocently have become the possessor of them. This has suggested to us the possible usefulness of such a department in punishing and in a measure preventing book thieving, and we have added one of our own woes to the list. If second-hand dealers will kindly keep note of such announcements, it may ultimately be of service in preventing abstractions from their own shelves.

IDENTIFYING BOOKS.

THE somewhat mysterious scheme to which we alluded recently, which under the large name of "The Publishers' and Booksellers' Protective Association," announced a patented method of curing many trade evils, consists, as we then presumed, in a method of identifying individual copies of books, so that an owner or publisher may trace any copy beyond possibility of mistake. The plan has been patented in the United States, Great Britain, and Canada, within the present year, by its inventor, Mr. Jas. Moore Beers, who had had considerable experience in the subscription-book trade in connection with H. J. Johnson & Co., with whom is associated Mr. H. Fenno, a journalist and subscription-book publisher of Baltimore, in promoting the plan.

The following cut illustrates the method:

The Association proposes to supply to publishers, at a small price, by the hundred or thousand, little slips of paper, about the size of three postage-stamps, each individually numbered. One-third of this slip is the "visible stamp," with a trade-mark design over which a number is stamped, another third is "the identifying label," stamped with the same number, and the third portion is simply a protecting flap. The identifying label is pasted into the permanent binding at the back, the visible stamp either standing out from it or being separately pasted in any other part of the book. The visible stamp can of course be removed by any one desiring to conceal the identity of a book, but the identifying label can be found and disposed of only by tearing up the binding. While the scope of this scheme has been writ very large in the prospectuses of it and in announcements in the daily press, it does afford an ingenious method of identifying copies which may be of much service to subscription-book publishers who make "iron-clad" contracts with their agents, and possibly to publishers in general, as a precaution against fraudulent buyers who get stock for the purpose of disposing of it as best they can. The "Association" is, however, a private enterprise, and not a combination of publishers, as announced in the daily press, and its name is to that extent misleading. We understand, however, that Messrs. Chas. L. Webster and one or two other subscription-book publishers are looking into the plan, with a view to utilize it in forthcoming books.

OBITUARY.

MRS. LUCY MYERS MITCHELL.

MRS. MITCHELL, who died in Berlin, March 10, was born in Persia, where her father, Rev. Dr. Austin H. Wright was a missionary. She was educated in the United States, graduating from Mt. Holyoke Seminary. In 1867 she was married to Mr. Samuel S. Mitchell, the artist. Her interest in classical archaeology was aroused in Leipzig in 1872, and she studied in Rome, Berlin, and London. The outcome of these studies was her "History of Ancient Sculpture" (Dodd, Mead & Co.), in recognition of which she was elected a member of the Imperial Archaeological Institute of Germany, a distinction granted to but one other woman. Mrs. Mitchell was collecting material for a work on Greek vases when she died. The Century Magazine and the N. Y. Times have contained valuable contributions from her pen.

JAMES HOGG.

JAMES HOGG, who died on March 14 at his son's residence in England, was a native of Scotland, born March 26, 1806. He was apprenticed to James Muirhead, printer, and afterwards engaged successively with Mr. Abernethy, the original printer of the Scotsman, Murray & Cochrane, printers of the Edinburgh Review, and Andrew Balfour, one of the largest book printers in Edinburgh, and then started business for himself. In 1845 Mr. Hogg started the Instructor, which lived fifteen years and had many noted contributors. Mr. Hogg's imprint is on the works of Rev. George Gilfillan, the earlier works of Dr. Peter Bayne, De Quincey's collected works, and on several series of very successful juvenile books. London Society was also for years published by Hogg & Sons. For nearly twenty-five years Mr. Hogg suffered from an affection of the eyes and was latterly almost blind. He had outlived all his trade contemporaries, but always seemed to enjoy indulging in reminiscences of old Edinburgh days and old printing times.

COMMUNICATIONS.

MRS. DE SALIS' "SAVOURIES"—AN EXPLANATION.

ST. DUNSTON'S HOUSE, FETTER LANE, }
LONDON, E. C., March 20, 1888. }

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly:

SIR: Messrs. Longmans & Co. have drawn our attention to the fact that a work published by them entitled "Savouries," by Mrs. De Salis, has been reprinted in New York by G. W. Dillingham, and that it bears on the title-page not only Mr. Dillingham's imprint but our own (S. Low, Son, & Co.), thus placing our firm in the anomalous and not very dignified position of authorizing the issue of piratical editions of English books in America; the motive apparently being to convey the idea to the American public that the work itself is authorized by the English publisher!

We trust you will permit us, through your wide-spread journal, most emphatically to denounce this dishonest and most unwarrantable use of our firm's name.

Yours faithfully,

SAMPSON LOW, MARSTON, SEARLE & RIVINGTON, LIMITED.

Per E. Marston.

[We are informed from Mr. Dillingham that this imprint was put on by a stereotyper's mistake, which escaped attention. A letter from his house will appear next week.—ED. P. W.]

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

Das Magazin für die Litterature des In- und Auslandes has been purchased by Dr. Ehlermann, of Dresden, and after April 1 will be published in that city instead of as heretofore in Leipzig. The new publisher will consider it a favor if exchanges will notice the new address.

THE first number of a new weekly paper called The Globe is at hand. It aims to be a "well-informed, intelligent, and conservative review of what is being done in all parts of the world," and intends to give its readers the domestic and foreign, political, social, commercial and financial news. The present issue contains an interesting article on the British Postal Telegraph.

The Canadian Bookseller is the title of a new trade journal issued by the Canadian Bookseller Co., of which Dan. A. Rose is the manager, at Toronto. It will be published in the interests of the book, stationery, fancy goods, and kindred trades, and, judging from the first number, will do it in a business-like and bright manner. The first issue, dated March 15, contains twenty pages of about the size of our WEEKLY.

THE Contemporary Review for March (Leonard Scott Publishing Co.) is an unusually interesting number, containing "Notes on the Irish Demand," by Gladstone; "Applied Science and Trade," by Henry Dunckley; "Europe Versus the United States," by G. T. Bettany; "The Negro Question in the United States," by George W. Cable; reviews of Froude's "West Indies," "Garibaldi's Memoirs," and "Recent Economic Literature," besides other excellent articles.

Fame and Fortune will print the work of any one who has anything good to tell. It has a plan of remuneration which is intended to foster a spirit of emulation. All manuscripts submitted will be read and prizes are offered every week for the best short story, poem, serial story, joke, conundrum, puzzle, and chess problem. The articles printed are voted upon by all readers on blanks attached to the paper, and the opinions thus gathered are counted and the prizes awarded accordingly.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

HENRY HOLT & Co. will publish at once a novel by Gen. Hugh Ewing, entitled "A Castle in the Air."

LINDERFELT's "Volaptik" has just gone into a third edition, a strong indication of the growing interest in the new language of the world.

E. & J. B. YOUNG & Co. have in press for early publication the Lenten Lectures lately delivered by Dr. Dix in Trinity Chapel, N. Y., which have been so severely commented on by the press of this and other cities.

"JEFFERSON DAVIS," says the Chronicle, of Augusta, Ga., "is at work on his new book about the war, and hopes to have it ready for publication by next fall. His infirmities, he says, compel him to write slowly, deliberately, and uncertainly."

E. A. MAC announces that his "Dictionary of Market Values" has been issued for 1888 with some important new features, and informs his customers that all copies of editions of 1887 will be taken in free exchange for like copies of the latest edition.

BELFORD, CLARKE & Co., of Chicago and New York, have in preparation, for sale by subscription only, an illustrated life of the late Emperor of Germany, by Gen. Herman Leib, to which will be added a historical sketch of the German people from the earliest times to the foundation of the Hohenzollern dynasty.

MR. T. T. TIMAYENSIS, who is the head of the Minerva Publishing Co., claims to be the author of the "Original Mr. Jacobs." He also announces that he has under way another book entitled "The American Jew," which he says will be as wine to water compared with the one now enjoying the distinction of a boycotted publication. Mr. Timayensis, it will be remembered is the author of a "History of Greece," published by D. Appleton & Co.

"THE OLD SOUTH LEAFLETS," which have been published during the last five years in connection with the annual courses of historical lectures at the Old South Meeting-House, have attracted so much attention and meet such a real need, that the Directors of the Old South Studies have determined upon the publication of a general series of leaflets, with the needs of schools, colleges, and private clubs and classes especially in mind. Messrs. D. C. Heath & Co., of Boston, will, by special arrangement, publish the Leaflets for schools and the trade. These Leaflets will be largely reproductions of important, original, political, and historical papers, accompanied by useful notes. They will consist, on an average, of sixteen pages, and will be sold at a very low price, not more than three dollars per hundred copies, the aim being to bring them within easy reach of everybody.

L. KREICHAUF, Elmira, N. Y., announces a "Quarterly Bibliography of American and English Literature," which is to contain: 1. Alphabetical biography of all American book publications published during the preceding three months, arranged according to author or catchword recorded with full title and all biographical details as to place of publication, publisher, number of pages, size, price, etc., according to the regulations of the American Library Association, with descriptive and critical notes; 2. Quarterly bibliography of all English book publications arranged as the American list; 3. Classified bibliography of all book publications recorded in list 1 and 2; 4. Bibliography of new serials and periodicals, American and English; 5. List of English publications reprinted in the United States; 6. List of American publications reprinted in England; 7. Old books under new names; 8. Bibliography of publications in press, American and English; 9. Quarterly statistics; 10. Directory of publishers represented; 11. Index of subjects.

AN important historical work is announced in England, "The War of the Succession in Spain, 1702-11," by Colonel the Hon. Arthur Parnell, of the Royal Engineers. The book is based on unpublished MSS. and contemporary records.

JAMES CLEGG, 10 Milnrow Road, Rochdale, Eng., has become the publisher of "The Directory of Second-hand Booksellers," first issued by the late A. Gyles, and will shortly issue a revised and enlarged edition. The list of booksellers will no longer be confined to England, but will include also the trade in the United States and Canada. The book will also include a complete list of the Free Public Libraries of Great Britain, lists of the principal American and continental libraries, and lists of the libraries connected with the learned societies, universities, colleges, and other institutions.

AN important art-work, "Monuments of Greek and Roman Sculpture," is announced for publication at Munich, by the Verlagsanstalt für Kunst und Wissenschaft, formerly Friedrich Bruckmann, and in London by Asher & Co. The work will be completed in eighty parts, each containing five plates in permanent phototype with German text by Prof. Heinrich Brunn. The photographs are taken directly from casts in European museums, and the work will be superintended by Dr. Leopold Julius. The form is large folio and the size of the cartoons 18 x 25 inches. The price is fixed at $5 per part.

PRESCOTT INNES, of Glasgow, has in preparation a Book-Hunter's Library in thirty volumes. He says that he has collected in the course of a busy life some very rare books, some of which "are unknown, in name even, to such bibliographers as Lowndes, Alibone, or Quaritch," and he proposes to reprint them in large print and elegant style. Ten volumes of the series will be a reprint of Balthasar Bekker's—a Dutch theologian—"History of Magic." The first part only has hitherto been published in England, and that event took place as far back as the beginning of the seventeenth century.

BASE-BALL NOTES.

THE Century Base-Ball Club has been organized for the coming season, and will entertain challenges from all "nines" in the book-trade. Address The Century Base Ball Club, 33 East 17th St.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address, in each issue. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

BOOKS WANTED.

In answering, please state edition, condition, and price.

It is desirable to receive copy in shape ready for the printer, viz.: first, headline—name and address—then, titles in separate lines (see below), all written on a separate sheet, or at the bottom of letter, or on postal card. Compliance with this request will secure accurate and prompt insertion.

New Books.

William I. and the German Empire.

A Biographical and Historical Sketch. By G. Barnett Smith, author of "Poets and Novelists," "The Biography of Mr. Gladstone," etc. 8vo, $3.00.

This is no hastily prepared, catch-penny volume, made to take advantage of the interest consequent upon the sudden death of the great Emperor, but a long studied and carefully elaborated historical sketch of this life which was so thoroughly inwoven into the history of Europe during the last fifty years. It is purely an accident that it happens to appear just as the great life is closed.

Historic Waterways.

A Description of Six Hundred Miles of Canoeing down the Rock, Fox, and Wisconsin Rivers. By Reuben Gold Thwaites, Secretary State Historical Society, Wisconsin. With two Maps of the Routes. 12mo, $1.25.

"This little volume will be a revelation to many readers of the manner in which these rivers have become historic. It is well worth a voyage along with the accomplished author, to acquire so much of the history of the country in this pleasing form."—The Universalist

Witnesses to Christ.

A Contribution to Christian Apologetics. By William Clark, M.A., Trinity College, Toronto. 12mo, $1.50.

"Witnesses to Christ" is the title of the second series of eight lectures "For the establishment and Defence of Christian Truth," delivered in November and December, 1887, before the Hobart Guild of the University of Michigan. Delivered upon the Baldwin foundation, these lectures were in every way worthy to succeed the masterly series delivered one year before by Bishop A. Cleveland Coxe, and published under the title of "Institutes of Christian History."

His Broken Sword.

A Novel. By Winnie L. Taylor. Large 12mo, $1.25.

"His Broken Sword" is a novel of the better class, and in a new field, with a motive that will appeal powerfully to all earnest and sincere natures, and a strength of plot and of characters that will cause it to be read with absorbing interest. Edward Everett Hale has read the book and given it almost unqualified approval, and to him it is dedicated.

TO THE TRADE.

We desire to call the special attention of the Trade to our increased facilities for conducting the book-jobbing business at our new and commodious place of business,

Nos. 740 and 742 Broadway.

We are confident there is no more varied or general stock of

Miscellaneous and School Books, nor one more readily accessible for easy examination to be found in New York; that nowhere else will customers receive more prompt or careful attention or buy on better terms than we are able to offer on our goods.

We hope for a continuance of the liberal patronage which we received in Bond Street, and trust that the greater convenience of our new location, together with our added facilities for serving our customers with efficiency, promptness, and at the lowest prices, will enable us to merit a still greater share of business.

WILL PUBLISH APRIL 14:

BEFORE THE CURFEW,

And Other Poems, Chiefly Occasional. By Oliver Wendell Holmes. 1 vol., 16mo, beautifully printed and bound, $1.00.

This tasteful volume contains the poems written by Dr. Holmes during the past eight years since "The Iron Gate" was published. They have the same freshness, wit, pathos, fitness to the occasion, felicity of phrase, and all the other charming qualities, which have made his previous books an unfailing delight.

METRICAL TRANSLATIONS AND POEMS.

By F. H. Hedge, D.D., and Mrs. A. L. Wister. 1 vol., 16mo, gilt top, $1.00.

Dr. Hedge is widely known as one of the most accomplished of German students and unsurpassed as a translator of German prose and verse. Mrs. Wister has won an enviable celebrity by her admirable translations of the popular stories of E. Marlitt and other famous German novelists, which under her skilful touch are better in translation than in the original. Dr. Hedge and Mrs. Wister have brought together in a tasteful little book the best German poems they have both translated into English verse, to which Dr. Hedge has added some excellent original poems.

THE PURITAN AGE AND RULE

In the Colony of the Massachusetts Bay, 1629-1685. By George E. Ellis, D.D., President of the Massachusetts Historical Society, author of "The Red Man and the White Man in North America," etc. 1 vol., 8vo, $3.50.

Dr. Ellis is one of the most competent and diligent students of American history, especially of the Colonial era. In this volume he gives the results of his researches and studies concerning the motives which prompted the self-exile of the Puritans and the grounds on which they exercised their arbitrary rule in Massachusetts. Directly or indirectly the book challenges statements and criticisms which have appeared in some recent volumes dealing with the Puritans.

DISCOVERY OF AMERICA BY NORTHMEN.

Address at the Unveiling of the Statue of LEIF ERIKSEN, delivered in Faneuil Hall, October 29, 1887. By Eben Norton Horsford. With maps and illustrations. In one vol., 4to, $5.00 net.

In this volume Professor Horsford aims to present the essential story of the discovery of America by the Northmen, omitting only the matters which properly enough may appear in an account of the life and usages of the people, but which do not so immediately concern the strict history of the Discovery of America. In an Appendix are given the larger part of Joshua Toulmain Smith's version of the Saga of Eirik the Red, extracts from Thorfinn's Saga, and other important matter. The book is rich in fac-similes of rare and curious maps.

ON SATURDAY, APRIL 21:

JOHN WARD, PREACHER.

A Novel. By Margaret Deland, author of "The Old Garden, and Other Poems." 1 vol., 12mo, $1.50.

John Ward was a clergyman in the Presbyterian Church, and this engaging story deals with the problem of the sternest principles of the old orthodoxy brought into close relations with the best elements of modern Agnosticism. The scene of the novel is laid in the Middle States, and there is in it a great deal of what a celebrated playwright called "contemporaneous human interest." The characters are unique in many instances but always true to possible life, and the story is sure to attract marked attention, and likely to cause very animated discussion.

NEGRO MYTHS FROM THE GEORGIA COAST.

Collected by Charles C. Jones, Jr., author of "The History of Georgia." In 1 vol., 16mo, tastefully bound, $1.00.

The delightful "Uncle Remus" stories by Mr. Joel Chandler Harris are but a small part of the quaint folk-stories handed down by tradition from generation to generation among the negroes of the Southern States. Colonel Jones has gathered a volume of these, which have been current on the coast of Georgia, and which cannot fail to interest a multitude of readers by their quaint simplicity and grotesque fancies.
